King Business Interiors Hires Dick James Veteran Industry Leader Returns from Retirement

Columbus, Ohio -- King Business Interiors is pleased to announce that Dick James has been hired as director of contract services. James returns from a brief retirement from T.W. Ruff Co. after more than 34 years with the company. James, who is well known in the Columbus furnishings industry, will concentrate on serving clients in the education and government sectors.

“Dick is one of those rare finds for a business like ours. He has all of the experience and unique industry perspectives that will be invaluable to our clients as well as the future growth of our business. We’re pleased that he decided to come back from retirement to join our company,” said Darla King, president and CEO.

James is a long-time resident of Upper Arlington.
